ADDENDUM B

CITY OF CHICAGO AFFIDAIVT DISCLOSING SLAVERY ERA PARTICIPATION, INVESTMENTS, OR PROFITS

Bank of America, National Association ("BANA") is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of BAC North America Holding Corporation ("BACNA"). NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings"). NB Holdings Corporation is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation. Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a publicly held company whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange and has no parent corporation. Based on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rules regarding beneficial ownership, Berkshire Hathaway Inc., 3555 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68131, beneficially owns greater than 10% of Bank of America Corporation's outstanding common stock, which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofA Securities, is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations in all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and more than 40 foreign countries. Given the size and breadth of the Bank of America family of companies, the extensive number of predecessor companies and the lack of availability of records for all predecessors dating back the slavery era, it is not reasonably possible to perform definitive due diligence across the full panoply of predecessor companies. In 2005, the Corporation engaged the research firm, Heritage Research Center, Ltd. to perform an extensive review of predecessor companies existing at the time to determine ties with slavery. The Heritage firm reported that they "did not identify any instances or occasions in which any Bank of America legacy banks made a profit from slavery." The firm found examples of abolitionist sentiment among founders and directors of several of the bank's predecessors, and strong objections to doing business with commercial interests involved in slavery in the bank's predecessors' histories. The firm also found two connections to slavery in the histories of the bank's predecessors. In 1863, two predecessor banks of Bank of America – Boatmen's Bank and Southern Bank in St. Louis – joined four other businesses in taking a security interest against all of the property of Charles McLaran for a past due debt. Mr. McLaran apparently owned slaves and the category "slaves" was listed in the agreement among the types of property pledged as security. That same year, Mr. McLaran paid his debts in full and the institutions released their claim on his property. At no time did any of the businesses own any of the slaves. In 1840, John Forsyth, Secretary of State of the United States, proposed to the directors of Bank of the Metropolis in Washington, D.C. to pledge slaves as security against an amount in dispute over a dishonored note, and the board agreed in principle to the proposal. The available evidence suggests that Forsyth and the directors reached an alternative arrangement several weeks later, and that the bank "did not file or receive a mortgage with Forsyth's slaves as collateral.

Bank of America, National Association ("BANA") is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of BAC North America Holding Corporation ("BACNA"). NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings"). NB Holdings Corporation is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation. Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a publicly held company whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange and has no parent corporation. Based on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rules regarding beneficial ownership, Berkshire Hathaway Inc., 3555 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68131, beneficially owns greater than 10% of Bank of America Corporation's outstanding common stock, which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofA Securities, is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations in all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and more than 40 foreign countries. Given the size and breadth of the Bank of America family of companies, the extensive number of predecessor companies and the lack of availability of records for all predecessors dating back the slavery era, it is not reasonably possible to perform definitive due diligence across the full panoply of predecessor companies. In 2005, the Corporation engaged the research firm, Heritage Research Center, Ltd. to perform an extensive review of predecessor companies existing at the time to determine ties with slavery. The Heritage firm reported that they "did not identify any instances or occasions in which any Bank of America legacy banks made a profit from slavery." The firm found examples of abolitionist sentiment among founders and directors of several of the bank's predecessors, and strong objections to doing business with commercial interests involved in slavery in the bank's predecessors' histories. The firm also found two connections to slavery in the histories of the bank's predecessors. In 1863, two predecessor banks of Bank of America – Boatmen's Bank and Southern Bank in St. Louis – joined four other businesses in taking a security interest against all of the property of Charles McLaran for a past due debt. Mr. McLaran apparently owned slaves and the category "slaves" was listed in the agreement among the types of property pledged as security. That same year, Mr. McLaran paid his debts in full and the institutions released their claim on his property. At no time did any of the businesses own any of the slaves. In 1840, John Forsyth, Secretary of State of the United States, proposed to the directors of Bank of the Metropolis in Washington, D.C. to pledge slaves as security against an amount in dispute over a dishonored note, and the board agreed in principle to the proposal. The available evidence suggests that Forsyth and the directors reached an alternative arrangement several weeks later, and that the bank "did not file or receive a mortgage with Forsyth's slaves as collateral.

Bank of America, National Association ("BANA") is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of BAC North America Holding Corporation ("BACNA"). NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings"). NB Holdings Corporation is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation. Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a publicly held company whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange and has no parent corporation. Based on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rules regarding beneficial ownership, Berkshire Hathaway Inc., 3555 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68131, beneficially owns greater than 10% of Bank of America Corporation's outstanding common stock, which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofA Securities, is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations in all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and more than 40 foreign countries. Given the size and breadth of the Bank of America family of companies, the extensive number of predecessor companies and the lack of availability of records for all predecessors dating back the slavery era, it is not reasonably possible to perform definitive due diligence across the full panoply of predecessor companies. In 2005, the Corporation engaged the research firm, Heritage Research Center, Ltd. to perform an extensive review of predecessor companies existing at the time to determine ties with slavery. The Heritage firm reported that they "did not identify any instances or occasions in which any Bank of America legacy banks made a profit from slavery." The firm found examples of abolitionist sentiment among founders and directors of several of the bank's predecessors, and strong objections to doing business with commercial interests involved in slavery in the bank's predecessors' histories. The firm also found two connections to slavery in the histories of the bank's predecessors. In 1863, two predecessor banks of Bank of America – Boatmen's Bank and Southern Bank in St. Louis – joined four other businesses in taking a security interest against all of the property of Charles McLaran for a past due debt. Mr. McLaran apparently owned slaves and the category "slaves" was listed in the agreement among the types of property pledged as security. That same year, Mr. McLaran paid his debts in full and the institutions released their claim on his property. At no time did any of the businesses own any of the slaves. In 1840, John Forsyth, Secretary of State of the United States, proposed to the directors of Bank of the Metropolis in Washington, D.C. to pledge slaves as security against an amount in dispute over a dishonored note, and the board agreed in principle to the proposal. The available evidence suggests that Forsyth and the directors reached an alternative arrangement several weeks later, and that the bank "did not file or receive a mortgage with Forsyth's slaves as collateral.

Bank of America, National Association ("BANA") is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of BAC North America Holding Corporation ("BACNA"). NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings"). NB Holdings Corporation is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation. Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a publicly held company whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange and has no parent corporation. Based on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rules regarding beneficial ownership, Berkshire Hathaway Inc., 3555 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68131, beneficially owns greater than 10% of Bank of America Corporation's outstanding common stock, which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofA Securities, is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations in all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and more than 40 foreign countries. Given the size and breadth of the Bank of America family of companies, the extensive number of predecessor companies and the lack of availability of records for all predecessors dating back the slavery era, it is not reasonably possible to perform definitive due diligence across the full panoply of predecessor companies. In 2005, the Corporation engaged the research firm, Heritage Research Center, Ltd. to perform an extensive review of predecessor companies existing at the time to determine ties with slavery. The Heritage firm reported that they "did not identify any instances or occasions in which any Bank of America legacy banks made a profit from slavery." The firm found examples of abolitionist sentiment among founders and directors of several of the bank's predecessors, and strong objections to doing business with commercial interests involved in slavery in the bank's predecessors' histories. The firm also found two connections to slavery in the histories of the bank's predecessors. In 1863, two predecessor banks of Bank of America – Boatmen's Bank and Southern Bank in St. Louis – joined four other businesses in taking a security interest against all of the property of Charles McLaran for a past due debt. Mr. McLaran apparently owned slaves and the category "slaves" was listed in the agreement among the types of property pledged as security. That same year, Mr. McLaran paid his debts in full and the institutions released their claim on his property. At no time did any of the businesses own any of the slaves. In 1840, John Forsyth, Secretary of State of the United States, proposed to the directors of Bank of the Metropolis in Washington, D.C. to pledge slaves as security against an amount in dispute over a dishonored note, and the board agreed in principle to the proposal. The available evidence suggests that Forsyth and the directors reached an alternative arrangement several weeks later, and that the bank "did not file or receive a mortgage with Forsyth's slaves as collateral.

2. The Disclosing Party and its Affiliated Entities are not delinquent in the payment of any fine, fee, tax or other source of indebtedness owed to the City of Chicago, including, but not limited to, water and sewer charges, license fees, parking tickets, property taxes and sales taxes, nor is the Disclosing Party delinquent in the payment of any tax administered by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

   - any "Affiliated Entity" (meaning a person or entity that, directly or indirectly: controls the Disclosing Party, is controlled by the Disclosing Party, or is, with the Disclosing Party, under common control of another person or entity). Indicia of control include, without limitation: interlocking management or ownership; identity of interests among family members, shared facilities and equipment; common use of employees; or organization of a business entity following the ineligibility of a business entity to do business with federal or state or local government, including the City, using substantially the same management, ownership, or principals as the ineligible entity. Citi Historic Records Review Summary

The history of Citigroup Inc. ("Citi") dates back to the founding of the City Bank of New York in 1812. As identified in Attachment A, most of Citi's pre-1866 predecessor institutions were founded in the Northeastern United States, including in New York, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Although a large majority of Citi's pre-1866 predecessors were founded in the Northeast, certain predecessor institutions interacted with individuals and entities located outside of the region, including individuals, companies, and other financial institutions in areas of the country where slavery was legal until December 1865.

Citi has reviewed records of its predecessor entities within its possession and control in the Citi Heritage Collection, as well as select external sources as described below, for evidence that any Citi predecessor entity participated in the U.S. Slave Trade or received profits from the institution of slavery in the United States. Citi's review of these materials did not identify any records demonstrating that a Citi predecessor entity directly purchased, sold or held enslaved persons, issued insurance policies to slaveholders to insure enslaved persons, issued insurance policies for business transactions or operations related to the trafficking of enslaved persons, used enslaved persons as collateral for insurance policies, loans or other transactions, facilitated the traffic of enslaved persons, or otherwise provided capital or other services to facilitate the U.S. slave trade or institution of slavery in the United States.

However, as discussed in Section III below, as financial institutions operating in the Early National and Antebellum periods, some Citi predecessor entities may have indirectly profited from the institution of slavery in the United States. In particular, Citi's review of its records indicates that Citi predecessors likely profited from financial transactions and relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states in the United States before 1866 that owned enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in or connected to the U.S. slave trade. Citi records indicate, for example, that individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states were accountholders of predecessor entities, that predecessor entities had agents located or operating in the Southern United States, and that predecessor entities had financial relationships with some banking institutions, individuals, and entities located or operating in slaveholding states.

I. Overview of Citigroup Inc.'s Origins

Citi's corporate lineage includes more than 400 predecessor institutions, 21 of which were established before 1866. Citi's internal corporate archives include records relating to 12 of these 21 entities. In the 211 years since its founding, Citi has undergone several name changes and completed numerous acquisitions and mergers. Attachment A contains a list of Citi predecessor entities.

II. Research Methodology

Citi previously researched potential connections between its predecessor entities and the institution of slavery in the United States in the early 2000s. This research did not identify evidence of any business dealings or investments that could be discerned as involving slavery or insurance on enslaved persons. In 2022, a team of professional historians ("the review team" or "the historians") working on Citi's behalf updated this research. The review team examined Citi's corporate genealogy to ensure that it reflected all of Citi's predecessor entities and reviewed all potentially relevant pre-1866 documents contained in the Citi Heritage Collection, an internal corporate archive of Citi's historical records.

Review of Predecessor Records

Records in the Citi Heritage Collection document the founding and evolution of the City Bank of New York, the formation of First National City Corporation, as well as various other predecessor institutions including Farmers' Loan and Trust Company (formerly named Farmers' Fire Insurance and Loan Company); First National Bank of the City of New York; Second National Bank of New York; Bank of America, New York; Nassau Bank of Brooklyn, Merchants' Exchange National Bank (formerly named Merchants' Exchange Bank); and East River National Bank. The historians had unrestricted access to the entire historical collection and reviewed thousands of pages of materials including account ledger books, Board of Directors' meeting minutes, letter books, incorporation papers, by-laws, statements of condition, stock certificates, bonds, correspondence, and other legal documents.

The Citi Heritage Collection is not a complete repository of all Citi predecessor records. When Citi acquired or merged with other entities, some but not all of those companies' records were transferred to Citi. As a result, not all material created by the firm's own activities or those of its predecessor entities that became part of Citi's corporate lineage have been preserved in the Citi Heritage Collection. Even where Citi has records for a particular entity and materials have been preserved, there are significant gaps in the collection. The historians' review of the Citi Heritage Collection involved a comprehensive review of relevant records to identify indications of predecessor involvement in or potential profits from the institution of slavery in the United States.

The review also included records contained in eight public repositories: New York Public Library's Manuscript and Archives Division, Cornell University Library's Division of Rare and Manuscript Collection, the Probate Court of Mobile County, Alabama, the Historic Mobile Preservation Society Archives, the History Museum of Mobile, the Mobile Public Library; the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library; and the Library of Congress.

The Manuscripts and Archives Division at the New York Public Library holds a collection of materials relating to Moses Taylor, a Director and President of City Bank of New York, who, as described below, profited from the institution of slavery. Although the finding aid for the collection identified documents that appeared to be City Bank of New York and National City Bank of New York records, the historians reviewed these documents and determined that the documents were not Citi predecessor records, but rather personal records of Moses Taylor and his businesses.

The historians also reviewed certain records related to Henry Hitchcock, who, as described below, owned enslaved persons in Alabama. This review included records at the Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections at Cornell University, which holds records of Farmers' Loan and Trust Company (1829 – 1866), one of Citi's predecessor entities that conducted business with Hitchcock. The collection includes abstracts of title, agreements of sale and articles of trust, copies of the deeds and the contract schedules used to transfer title, detailed maps of townships where the transfers took place, resolutions by officers of the company, powers of attorney to company agents, schedules of land and of mortgage foreclosures, bills of costs, accounts of cattle received in payments on mortgages, and other material relating to the management of the business. The historians completed a comprehensive review of the Farmers' collection at Cornell.

The historians also reviewed materials at the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama, History Museum of Mobile Alabama, and Mobile Public Library's Local History & Genealogy Library related to Hitchcock. The Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library maintains a set of records concerning Henry Hitchcock, which were obtained from the Missouri Historical Society's Hitchcock Family Collection. The historians reviewed correspondence, estate records, and secondary source materials concerning Hitchcock, as well as genealogical databases, historical court cases, and benchmark secondary sources at the Library of Congress. Their conclusions related to this review are discussed in Section III below.

III. Potential Connections to the Institution of Slavery in the United States

The review of Citi's internal records, supplemented by the review of materials in the external collections described above, found no record indicating that a Citi predecessor entity directly purchased, sold, or held enslaved persons, issued insurance policies to slaveholders to insure enslaved persons, issued insurance policies for business transactions and operations related to the trafficking of enslaved persons, used enslaved persons as collateral for insurance policies, loans or other transactions, facilitated the traffic of enslaved persons, or otherwise provided capital or other services to facilitate the Slave Trade. The records do suggest, however, that some of Citi's predecessor entities may have profited from financial transactions and relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states in the United States prior to 1866 that enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in the institution of slavery in the United States.

Farmers' Loan and Trust Company[1]

The review considered whether a transaction between Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, a Citi predecessor company, and Henry Hitchcock might have resulted in Farmer's owning some of the persons enslaved by Hitchcock. The review ultimately concluded that the transaction reflected in Citi's records did not result in the Citi predecessor owning any persons enslaved by Hitchcock.

Records contained in the Citi Heritage Collection reflect transactions between a Citi predecessor entity, Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and Henry Hitchcock from 1832 – 1838, related to the creation of a trust on real estate in Mobile, Alabama in 1836, the renewal of two insurance policies for Hitchcock in 1832, and the acquisition of shares of the stock of the Alabama Life Insurance & Trust Company. Henry Hitchcock was one of the wealthiest men in Alabama during the time period and held positions as the first Attorney General of Alabama, the first Secretary of the Alabama Territory, and Chief Justice on the Alabama Supreme Court. 1830 U.S. Decennial Census records indicate that Hitchcock enslaved twenty-four persons. The names of the persons are not identified in the census.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company Minute Book, which is part of the Citi Heritage Collection, covers the 1835 through 1839 period and includes minutes that document the creation of a real estate trust for Hitchcock. According to these records, on October 3, 1836, the Committee of Trusts reviewed, and later accepted, an application by Henry Hitchcock for a trust in the amount of $600,000 on real estate in Mobile, Alabama, valued at $1.9 million. On March 20, 1837, the Committee of Trusts approved an agreement and declaration of trust between the Company and Hitchcock, confirming the extension of an $800,000 trust to Hitchcock and the Committee's satisfaction with the security. On May 18, 1838, the Committee of Trusts reviewed a letter from Henry Hitchcock requesting to cancel the contract and return the Company's Certificates, after the Company re-conveyed the property in Mobile held under the trust. The Committee accepted the cancelation of the trust.

Given the value of the real estate of $1.9 million in 1836 dollars and the location of the property in Mobile, Alabama, the review team considered the possibility that the property may have included persons enslaved by Hitchcock. Neither the Citi Heritage Collection nor Cornell University collection contain any additional details relating to the Hitchcock trust, including the contents of the trust or what real estate in Mobile, Alabama was conveyed. However, the collections maintained by the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama and the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library do include documents describing Hitchcock's transactions with Farmers' Loan and Trust Company and the extent of his real estate holdings and financial investments. These documents indicate that the trust was composed of several parcels of real estate and did not include enslaved persons, as do additional documents maintained by the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama and the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library related to the property's conveyance back to Hitchcock and later to another bank as collateral.

In addition to the trust discussed above, the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company Letter Book from 1832 – 1838 in the Citi Heritage Collection includes a letter from January 4, 1832, which discusses renewal of an insurance policy to Hitchcock and the lack of renewal of a second insurance policy. The letter does not identify the scope or contents of either insurance policy. There are no other records in the Citi Heritage Collection or at Cornell University that discuss insurance policies issued to Hitchcock.

Lehman Brothers

Citi's corporate timeline identifies Lehman Brothers, which was founded in 1850, as a predecessor entity to Travelers Group. In 1998 Travelers Group (previously Primerica) merged with Citicorp to become Citigroup Inc. Prior to that 1998 merger, Primerica had acquired certain assets connected to Shearson Lehman Hutton, a corporate descendant of Lehman Brothers, from American Express. However, at the time of Primerica's acquisition of those assets, American Express retained Lehman Brothers and thereafter spun it off as an independent entity. In 2003, the independent Lehman Brothers entity filed an affidavit pursuant to the Chicago Slavery Disclosure Ordinance identifying ties to the Slave Trade based on the predecessor of the same name founded in 1850. Although Lehman Brothers' disclosure was reported on publicly, Citi does not have a copy of Lehman Brothers' disclosure or affidavit, and the Citi Heritage Collection does not include records relating to Lehman Brothers because Citi did not acquire any Lehman Brothers records as a result of the merger with Travelers Group described above. However, based on public information regarding Lehman Brothers' affidavit, the 1850 Lehman Brothers entity likely profited from the institution of slavery in the United States.

City Bank of New York (National City Bank of New York as of 1865)

Between 1837 and 1882, Moses Taylor was a director, controlling shareholder, and President (1856-1882) of City Bank of New York. Taylor was also a director of Farmers' Loan and Trust Company. Taylor was a significant figure in the New York merchant economy and built a large fortune from shipping sugarcane and other commodities from Cuban plantations to the rest of the world, as well as investing in industries such as railroads, coffee, steel, coal, and utilities. Taylor was the largest stockholder and a director in both the Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railroad and the Central Railroad and Bank Company of the Georgia railroad system, as well as a leading stock and bond holder of numerous other Midwestern and Southern railroads.

Previous research undertaken on Moses Taylor indicates that Taylor utilized the bank as a private treasury for his own enterprises and required his companies to keep their principal accounts at City Bank of New York.[2] According to that research, Taylor himself, his business associates, and the firms they controlled supplied most of the bank's deposits during this period.[3] The review team did not identify any records in the Citi Heritage Collection suggesting that City Bank of New York directly purchased, sold or held enslaved persons, provided insurance policies to Taylor or his company that used enslaved persons as collateral, or provided loans or other capital to facilitate the trafficking of enslaved persons. However, given that a significant portion of Taylor's business was connected to the trade of sugar and its derivatives from Cuban plantations that used enslaved labor, City Bank of New York likely profited indirectly from enslaved labor in Cuba by engaging in transactions with Taylor and his businesses.

Potential Indirect Profits

Some of Citi's predecessor entities were financial institutions that operated in the Early National and Antebellum periods. Records contained in the Citi Heritage Collection and Cornell University indicate that some of these entities operated in slaveholding states in the United States prior to 1866, or that they did business with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states prior to 1866. These predecessor entities likely derived indirect financial benefits from the institution of slavery in the United States through financial transactions or other business relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states prior to 1866 that owned enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in the institution of slavery in the United States.

Citi's records indicate, for example:

a. Individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states of the United States were accountholders of predecessor entities;

b. A predecessor entity created land and property trusts for individuals and companies located or operating in slaveholding states;

c. Predecessor entities had business dealings with financial institutions located or operating in slaveholding states;

d. Predecessor entities accepted, held or purchased stock, shares, or bonds in financial institutions located or operating in slaveholding states;

e. A predecessor held or purchased bonds or shares for certain Southern states and municipalities known to have enslaved persons;

f. Predecessor entities extended credit to financial institutions, individuals, and entities located or operating in slaveholding states;

g. Predecessor entities accepted, held or purchased bonds or stock in companies located or operating in slaveholding states; and

h. Predecessors had agents located or operating in slaveholding states.

Appendix I

Citi Historic Records Review Summary

The history of Citigroup Inc. ("Citi") dates back to the founding of the City Bank of New York in 1812. As identified in Attachment A, most of Citi's pre-1866 predecessor institutions were founded in the Northeastern United States, including in New York, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Although a large majority of Citi's pre-1866 predecessors were founded in the Northeast, certain predecessor institutions interacted with individuals and entities located outside of the region, including individuals, companies, and other financial institutions in areas of the country where slavery was legal until December 1865.

Citi has reviewed records of its predecessor entities within its possession and control in the Citi Heritage Collection, as well as select external sources as described below, for evidence that any Citi predecessor entity participated in the U.S. Slave Trade or received profits from the institution of slavery in the United States. Citi's review of these materials did not identify any records demonstrating that a Citi predecessor entity directly purchased, sold or held enslaved persons, issued insurance policies to slaveholders to insure enslaved persons, issued insurance policies for business transactions or operations related to the trafficking of enslaved persons, used enslaved persons as collateral for insurance policies, loans or other transactions, facilitated the traffic of enslaved persons, or otherwise provided capital or other services to facilitate the U.S. slave trade or institution of slavery in the United States.

However, as discussed in Section III below, as financial institutions operating in the Early National and Antebellum periods, some Citi predecessor entities may have indirectly profited from the institution of slavery in the United States. In particular, Citi's review of its records indicates that Citi predecessors likely profited from financial transactions and relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states in the United States before 1866 that owned enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in or connected to the U.S. slave trade. Citi records indicate, for example, that individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states were accountholders of predecessor entities, that predecessor entities had agents located or operating in the Southern United States, and that predecessor entities had financial relationships with some banking institutions, individuals, and entities located or operating in slaveholding states.

I. Overview of Citigroup Inc.'s Origins

Citi's corporate lineage includes more than 400 predecessor institutions, 21 of which were established before 1866. Citi's internal corporate archives include records relating to 12 of these 21 entities. In the 211 years since its founding, Citi has undergone several name changes and completed numerous acquisitions and mergers. Attachment A contains a list of Citi predecessor entities.

II. Research Methodology

Citi previously researched potential connections between its predecessor entities and the institution of slavery in the United States in the early 2000s. This research did not identify evidence of any business dealings or investments that could be discerned as involving slavery or insurance on enslaved persons. In 2022, a team of professional historians ("the review team" or "the historians") working on Citi's behalf updated this research. The review team examined Citi's corporate genealogy to ensure that it reflected all of Citi's predecessor entities and reviewed all potentially relevant pre-1866 documents contained in the Citi Heritage Collection, an internal corporate archive of Citi's historical records.

Review of Predecessor Records

Records in the Citi Heritage Collection document the founding and evolution of the City Bank of New York, the formation of First National City Corporation, as well as various other predecessor institutions including Farmers' Loan and Trust Company (formerly named Farmers' Fire Insurance and Loan Company); First National Bank of the City of New York; Second National Bank of New York; Bank of America, New York; Nassau Bank of Brooklyn, Merchants' Exchange National Bank (formerly named Merchants' Exchange Bank); and East River National Bank. The historians had unrestricted access to the entire historical collection and reviewed thousands of pages of materials including account ledger books, Board of Directors' meeting minutes, letter books, incorporation papers, by-laws, statements of condition, stock certificates, bonds, correspondence, and other legal documents.

The Citi Heritage Collection is not a complete repository of all Citi predecessor records. When Citi acquired or merged with other entities, some but not all of those companies' records were transferred to Citi. As a result, not all material created by the firm's own activities or those of its predecessor entities that became part of Citi's corporate lineage have been preserved in the Citi Heritage Collection. Even where Citi has records for a particular entity and materials have been preserved, there are significant gaps in the collection. The historians' review of the Citi Heritage Collection involved a comprehensive review of relevant records to identify indications of predecessor involvement in or potential profits from the institution of slavery in the United States.

The review also included records contained in eight public repositories: New York Public Library's Manuscript and Archives Division, Cornell University Library's Division of Rare and Manuscript Collection, the Probate Court of Mobile County, Alabama, the Historic Mobile Preservation Society Archives, the History Museum of Mobile, the Mobile Public Library; the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library; and the Library of Congress.

The Manuscripts and Archives Division at the New York Public Library holds a collection of materials relating to Moses Taylor, a Director and President of City Bank of New York, who, as described below, profited from the institution of slavery. Although the finding aid for the collection identified documents that appeared to be City Bank of New York and National City Bank of New York records, the historians reviewed these documents and determined that the documents were not Citi predecessor records, but rather personal records of Moses Taylor and his businesses.

The historians also reviewed certain records related to Henry Hitchcock, who, as described below, owned enslaved persons in Alabama. This review included records at the Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections at Cornell University, which holds records of Farmers' Loan and Trust Company (1829 – 1866), one of Citi's predecessor entities that conducted business with Hitchcock. The collection includes abstracts of title, agreements of sale and articles of trust, copies of the deeds and the contract schedules used to transfer title, detailed maps of townships where the transfers took place, resolutions by officers of the company, powers of attorney to company agents, schedules of land and of mortgage foreclosures, bills of costs, accounts of cattle received in payments on mortgages, and other material relating to the management of the business. The historians completed a comprehensive review of the Farmers' collection at Cornell.

The historians also reviewed materials at the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama, History Museum of Mobile Alabama, and Mobile Public Library's Local History & Genealogy Library related to Hitchcock. The Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library maintains a set of records concerning Henry Hitchcock, which were obtained from the Missouri Historical Society's Hitchcock Family Collection. The historians reviewed correspondence, estate records, and secondary source materials concerning Hitchcock, as well as genealogical databases, historical court cases, and benchmark secondary sources at the Library of Congress. Their conclusions related to this review are discussed in Section III below.

III. Potential Connections to the Institution of Slavery in the United States

The review of Citi's internal records, supplemented by the review of materials in the external collections described above, found no record indicating that a Citi predecessor entity directly purchased, sold, or held enslaved persons, issued insurance policies to slaveholders to insure enslaved persons, issued insurance policies for business transactions and operations related to the trafficking of enslaved persons, used enslaved persons as collateral for insurance policies, loans or other transactions, facilitated the traffic of enslaved persons, or otherwise provided capital or other services to facilitate the Slave Trade. The records do suggest, however, that some of Citi's predecessor entities may have profited from financial transactions and relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states in the United States prior to 1866 that enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in the institution of slavery in the United States.

Farmers' Loan and Trust Company[1]

The review considered whether a transaction between Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, a Citi predecessor company, and Henry Hitchcock might have resulted in Farmer's owning some of the persons enslaved by Hitchcock. The review ultimately concluded that the transaction reflected in Citi's records did not result in the Citi predecessor owning any persons enslaved by Hitchcock.

Records contained in the Citi Heritage Collection reflect transactions between a Citi predecessor entity, Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and Henry Hitchcock from 1832 – 1838, related to the creation of a trust on real estate in Mobile, Alabama in 1836, the renewal of two insurance policies for Hitchcock in 1832, and the acquisition of shares of the stock of the Alabama Life Insurance & Trust Company. Henry Hitchcock was one of the wealthiest men in Alabama during the time period and held positions as the first Attorney General of Alabama, the first Secretary of the Alabama Territory, and Chief Justice on the Alabama Supreme Court. 1830 U.S. Decennial Census records indicate that Hitchcock enslaved twenty-four persons. The names of the persons are not identified in the census.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company Minute Book, which is part of the Citi Heritage Collection, covers the 1835 through 1839 period and includes minutes that document the creation of a real estate trust for Hitchcock. According to these records, on October 3, 1836, the Committee of Trusts reviewed, and later accepted, an application by Henry Hitchcock for a trust in the amount of $600,000 on real estate in Mobile, Alabama, valued at $1.9 million. On March 20, 1837, the Committee of Trusts approved an agreement and declaration of trust between the Company and Hitchcock, confirming the extension of an $800,000 trust to Hitchcock and the Committee's satisfaction with the security. On May 18, 1838, the Committee of Trusts reviewed a letter from Henry Hitchcock requesting to cancel the contract and return the Company's Certificates, after the Company re-conveyed the property in Mobile held under the trust. The Committee accepted the cancelation of the trust.

Given the value of the real estate of $1.9 million in 1836 dollars and the location of the property in Mobile, Alabama, the review team considered the possibility that the property may have included persons enslaved by Hitchcock. Neither the Citi Heritage Collection nor Cornell University collection contain any additional details relating to the Hitchcock trust, including the contents of the trust or what real estate in Mobile, Alabama was conveyed. However, the collections maintained by the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama and the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library do include documents describing Hitchcock's transactions with Farmers' Loan and Trust Company and the extent of his real estate holdings and financial investments. These documents indicate that the trust was composed of several parcels of real estate and did not include enslaved persons, as do additional documents maintained by the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama and the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library related to the property's conveyance back to Hitchcock and later to another bank as collateral.

In addition to the trust discussed above, the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company Letter Book from 1832 – 1838 in the Citi Heritage Collection includes a letter from January 4, 1832, which discusses renewal of an insurance policy to Hitchcock and the lack of renewal of a second insurance policy. The letter does not identify the scope or contents of either insurance policy. There are no other records in the Citi Heritage Collection or at Cornell University that discuss insurance policies issued to Hitchcock.

Lehman Brothers

Citi's corporate timeline identifies Lehman Brothers, which was founded in 1850, as a predecessor entity to Travelers Group. In 1998 Travelers Group (previously Primerica) merged with Citicorp to become Citigroup Inc. Prior to that 1998 merger, Primerica had acquired certain assets connected to Shearson Lehman Hutton, a corporate descendant of Lehman Brothers, from American Express. However, at the time of Primerica's acquisition of those assets, American Express retained Lehman Brothers and thereafter spun it off as an independent entity. In 2003, the independent Lehman Brothers entity filed an affidavit pursuant to the Chicago Slavery Disclosure Ordinance identifying ties to the Slave Trade based on the predecessor of the same name founded in 1850. Although Lehman Brothers' disclosure was reported on publicly, Citi does not have a copy of Lehman Brothers' disclosure or affidavit, and the Citi Heritage Collection does not include records relating to Lehman Brothers because Citi did not acquire any Lehman Brothers records as a result of the merger with Travelers Group described above. However, based on public information regarding Lehman Brothers' affidavit, the 1850 Lehman Brothers entity likely profited from the institution of slavery in the United States.

City Bank of New York (National City Bank of New York as of 1865)

Between 1837 and 1882, Moses Taylor was a director, controlling shareholder, and President (1856-1882) of City Bank of New York. Taylor was also a director of Farmers' Loan and Trust Company. Taylor was a significant figure in the New York merchant economy and built a large fortune from shipping sugarcane and other commodities from Cuban plantations to the rest of the world, as well as investing in industries such as railroads, coffee, steel, coal, and utilities. Taylor was the largest stockholder and a director in both the Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railroad and the Central Railroad and Bank Company of the Georgia railroad system, as well as a leading stock and bond holder of numerous other Midwestern and Southern railroads.

Previous research undertaken on Moses Taylor indicates that Taylor utilized the bank as a private treasury for his own enterprises and required his companies to keep their principal accounts at City Bank of New York.[2] According to that research, Taylor himself, his business associates, and the firms they controlled supplied most of the bank's deposits during this period.[3] The review team did not identify any records in the Citi Heritage Collection suggesting that City Bank of New York directly purchased, sold or held enslaved persons, provided insurance policies to Taylor or his company that used enslaved persons as collateral, or provided loans or other capital to facilitate the trafficking of enslaved persons. However, given that a significant portion of Taylor's business was connected to the trade of sugar and its derivatives from Cuban plantations that used enslaved labor, City Bank of New York likely profited indirectly from enslaved labor in Cuba by engaging in transactions with Taylor and his businesses.

Potential Indirect Profits

Some of Citi's predecessor entities were financial institutions that operated in the Early National and Antebellum periods. Records contained in the Citi Heritage Collection and Cornell University indicate that some of these entities operated in slaveholding states in the United States prior to 1866, or that they did business with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states prior to 1866. These predecessor entities likely derived indirect financial benefits from the institution of slavery in the United States through financial transactions or other business relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states prior to 1866 that owned enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in the institution of slavery in the United States.

Citi's records indicate, for example:

a. Individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states of the United States were accountholders of predecessor entities;

b. A predecessor entity created land and property trusts for individuals and companies located or operating in slaveholding states;

Citi Historic Records Review Summary

The history of Citigroup Inc. ("Citi") dates back to the founding of the City Bank of New York in 1812. As identified in Attachment A, most of Citi's pre-1866 predecessor institutions were founded in the Northeastern United States, including in New York, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Although a large majority of Citi's pre-1866 predecessors were founded in the Northeast, certain predecessor institutions interacted with individuals and entities located outside of the region, including individuals, companies, and other financial institutions in areas of the country where slavery was legal until December 1865.

Citi has reviewed records of its predecessor entities within its possession and control in the Citi Heritage Collection, as well as select external sources as described below, for evidence that any Citi predecessor entity participated in the U.S. Slave Trade or received profits from the institution of slavery in the United States. Citi's review of these materials did not identify any records demonstrating that a Citi predecessor entity directly purchased, sold or held enslaved persons, issued insurance policies to slaveholders to insure enslaved persons, issued insurance policies for business transactions or operations related to the trafficking of enslaved persons, used enslaved persons as collateral for insurance policies, loans or other transactions, facilitated the traffic of enslaved persons, or otherwise provided capital or other services to facilitate the U.S. slave trade or institution of slavery in the United States.

However, as discussed in Section III below, as financial institutions operating in the Early National and Antebellum periods, some Citi predecessor entities may have indirectly profited from the institution of slavery in the United States. In particular, Citi's review of its records indicates that Citi predecessors likely profited from financial transactions and relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states in the United States before 1866 that owned enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in or connected to the U.S. slave trade. Citi records indicate, for example, that individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states were accountholders of predecessor entities, that predecessor entities had agents located or operating in the Southern United States, and that predecessor entities had financial relationships with some banking institutions, individuals, and entities located or operating in slaveholding states.

I. Overview of Citigroup Inc.'s Origins

Citi's corporate lineage includes more than 400 predecessor institutions, 21 of which were established before 1866. Citi's internal corporate archives include records relating to 12 of these 21 entities. In the 211 years since its founding, Citi has undergone several name changes and completed numerous acquisitions and mergers. Attachment A contains a list of Citi predecessor entities.

II. Research Methodology

Citi previously researched potential connections between its predecessor entities and the institution of slavery in the United States in the early 2000s. This research did not identify evidence of any business dealings or investments that could be discerned as involving slavery or insurance on enslaved persons. In 2022, a team of professional historians ("the review team" or "the historians") working on Citi's behalf updated this research. The review team examined Citi's corporate genealogy to ensure that it reflected all of Citi's predecessor entities and reviewed all potentially relevant pre-1866 documents contained in the Citi Heritage Collection, an internal corporate archive of Citi's historical records.

Review of Predecessor Records

Records in the Citi Heritage Collection document the founding and evolution of the City Bank of New York, the formation of First National City Corporation, as well as various other predecessor institutions including Farmers' Loan and Trust Company (formerly named Farmers' Fire Insurance and Loan Company); First National Bank of the City of New York; Second National Bank of New York; Bank of America, New York; Nassau Bank of Brooklyn, Merchants' Exchange National Bank (formerly named Merchants' Exchange Bank); and East River National Bank. The historians had unrestricted access to the entire historical collection and reviewed thousands of pages of materials including account ledger books, Board of Directors' meeting minutes, letter books, incorporation papers, by-laws, statements of condition, stock certificates, bonds, correspondence, and other legal documents.

The Citi Heritage Collection is not a complete repository of all Citi predecessor records. When Citi acquired or merged with other entities, some but not all of those companies' records were transferred to Citi. As a result, not all material created by the firm's own activities or those of its predecessor entities that became part of Citi's corporate lineage have been preserved in the Citi Heritage Collection. Even where Citi has records for a particular entity and materials have been preserved, there are significant gaps in the collection. The historians' review of the Citi Heritage Collection involved a comprehensive review of relevant records to identify indications of predecessor involvement in or potential profits from the institution of slavery in the United States.

The review also included records contained in eight public repositories: New York Public Library's Manuscript and Archives Division, Cornell University Library's Division of Rare and Manuscript Collection, the Probate Court of Mobile County, Alabama, the Historic Mobile Preservation Society Archives, the History Museum of Mobile, the Mobile Public Library; the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library; and the Library of Congress.

The Manuscripts and Archives Division at the New York Public Library holds a collection of materials relating to Moses Taylor, a Director and President of City Bank of New York, who, as described below, profited from the institution of slavery. Although the finding aid for the collection identified documents that appeared to be City Bank of New York and National City Bank of New York records, the historians reviewed these documents and determined that the documents were not Citi predecessor records, but rather personal records of Moses Taylor and his businesses.

The historians also reviewed certain records related to Henry Hitchcock, who, as described below, owned enslaved persons in Alabama. This review included records at the Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections at Cornell University, which holds records of Farmers' Loan and Trust Company (1829 – 1866), one of Citi's predecessor entities that conducted business with Hitchcock. The collection includes abstracts of title, agreements of sale and articles of trust, copies of the deeds and the contract schedules used to transfer title, detailed maps of townships where the transfers took place, resolutions by officers of the company, powers of attorney to company agents, schedules of land and of mortgage foreclosures, bills of costs, accounts of cattle received in payments on mortgages, and other material relating to the management of the business. The historians completed a comprehensive review of the Farmers' collection at Cornell.

The historians also reviewed materials at the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama, History Museum of Mobile Alabama, and Mobile Public Library's Local History & Genealogy Library related to Hitchcock. The Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library maintains a set of records concerning Henry Hitchcock, which were obtained from the Missouri Historical Society's Hitchcock Family Collection. The historians reviewed correspondence, estate records, and secondary source materials concerning Hitchcock, as well as genealogical databases, historical court cases, and benchmark secondary sources at the Library of Congress. Their conclusions related to this review are discussed in Section III below.

III. Potential Connections to the Institution of Slavery in the United States

The review of Citi's internal records, supplemented by the review of materials in the external collections described above, found no record indicating that a Citi predecessor entity directly purchased, sold, or held enslaved persons, issued insurance policies to slaveholders to insure enslaved persons, issued insurance policies for business transactions and operations related to the trafficking of enslaved persons, used enslaved persons as collateral for insurance policies, loans or other transactions, facilitated the traffic of enslaved persons, or otherwise provided capital or other services to facilitate the Slave Trade. The records do suggest, however, that some of Citi's predecessor entities may have profited from financial transactions and relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states in the United States prior to 1866 that enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in the institution of slavery in the United States.

Farmers' Loan and Trust Company[1]

The review considered whether a transaction between Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, a Citi predecessor company, and Henry Hitchcock might have resulted in Farmer's owning some of the persons enslaved by Hitchcock. The review ultimately concluded that the transaction reflected in Citi's records did not result in the Citi predecessor owning any persons enslaved by Hitchcock.

Records contained in the Citi Heritage Collection reflect transactions between a Citi predecessor entity, Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and Henry Hitchcock from 1832 – 1838, related to the creation of a trust on real estate in Mobile, Alabama in 1836, the renewal of two insurance policies for Hitchcock in 1832, and the acquisition of shares of the stock of the Alabama Life Insurance & Trust Company. Henry Hitchcock was one of the wealthiest men in Alabama during the time period and held positions as the first Attorney General of Alabama, the first Secretary of the Alabama Territory, and Chief Justice on the Alabama Supreme Court. 1830 U.S. Decennial Census records indicate that Hitchcock enslaved twenty-four persons. The names of the persons are not identified in the census.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company Minute Book, which is part of the Citi Heritage Collection, covers the 1835 through 1839 period and includes minutes that document the creation of a real estate trust for Hitchcock. According to these records, on October 3, 1836, the Committee of Trusts reviewed, and later accepted, an application by Henry Hitchcock for a trust in the amount of $600,000 on real estate in Mobile, Alabama, valued at $1.9 million. On March 20, 1837, the Committee of Trusts approved an agreement and declaration of trust between the Company and Hitchcock, confirming the extension of an $800,000 trust to Hitchcock and the Committee's satisfaction with the security. On May 18, 1838, the Committee of Trusts reviewed a letter from Henry Hitchcock requesting to cancel the contract and return the Company's Certificates, after the Company re-conveyed the property in Mobile held under the trust. The Committee accepted the cancelation of the trust.

Given the value of the real estate of $1.9 million in 1836 dollars and the location of the property in Mobile, Alabama, the review team considered the possibility that the property may have included persons enslaved by Hitchcock. Neither the Citi Heritage Collection nor Cornell University collection contain any additional details relating to the Hitchcock trust, including the contents of the trust or what real estate in Mobile, Alabama was conveyed. However, the collections maintained by the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama and the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library do include documents describing Hitchcock's transactions with Farmers' Loan and Trust Company and the extent of his real estate holdings and financial investments. These documents indicate that the trust was composed of several parcels of real estate and did not include enslaved persons, as do additional documents maintained by the Probate Court of Mobile Alabama and the Alabama Supreme Court and State Law Library related to the property's conveyance back to Hitchcock and later to another bank as collateral.

In addition to the trust discussed above, the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company Letter Book from 1832 – 1838 in the Citi Heritage Collection includes a letter from January 4, 1832, which discusses renewal of an insurance policy to Hitchcock and the lack of renewal of a second insurance policy. The letter does not identify the scope or contents of either insurance policy. There are no other records in the Citi Heritage Collection or at Cornell University that discuss insurance policies issued to Hitchcock.

Lehman Brothers

Citi's corporate timeline identifies Lehman Brothers, which was founded in 1850, as a predecessor entity to Travelers Group. In 1998 Travelers Group (previously Primerica) merged with Citicorp to become Citigroup Inc. Prior to that 1998 merger, Primerica had acquired certain assets connected to Shearson Lehman Hutton, a corporate descendant of Lehman Brothers, from American Express. However, at the time of Primerica's acquisition of those assets, American Express retained Lehman Brothers and thereafter spun it off as an independent entity. In 2003, the independent Lehman Brothers entity filed an affidavit pursuant to the Chicago Slavery Disclosure Ordinance identifying ties to the Slave Trade based on the predecessor of the same name founded in 1850. Although Lehman Brothers' disclosure was reported on publicly, Citi does not have a copy of Lehman Brothers' disclosure or affidavit, and the Citi Heritage Collection does not include records relating to Lehman Brothers because Citi did not acquire any Lehman Brothers records as a result of the merger with Travelers Group described above. However, based on public information regarding Lehman Brothers' affidavit, the 1850 Lehman Brothers entity likely profited from the institution of slavery in the United States.

City Bank of New York (National City Bank of New York as of 1865)

Between 1837 and 1882, Moses Taylor was a director, controlling shareholder, and President (1856-1882) of City Bank of New York. Taylor was also a director of Farmers' Loan and Trust Company. Taylor was a significant figure in the New York merchant economy and built a large fortune from shipping sugarcane and other commodities from Cuban plantations to the rest of the world, as well as investing in industries such as railroads, coffee, steel, coal, and utilities. Taylor was the largest stockholder and a director in both the Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railroad and the Central Railroad and Bank Company of the Georgia railroad system, as well as a leading stock and bond holder of numerous other Midwestern and Southern railroads.

Previous research undertaken on Moses Taylor indicates that Taylor utilized the bank as a private treasury for his own enterprises and required his companies to keep their principal accounts at City Bank of New York.[2] According to that research, Taylor himself, his business associates, and the firms they controlled supplied most of the bank's deposits during this period.[3] The review team did not identify any records in the Citi Heritage Collection suggesting that City Bank of New York directly purchased, sold or held enslaved persons, provided insurance policies to Taylor or his company that used enslaved persons as collateral, or provided loans or other capital to facilitate the trafficking of enslaved persons. However, given that a significant portion of Taylor's business was connected to the trade of sugar and its derivatives from Cuban plantations that used enslaved labor, City Bank of New York likely profited indirectly from enslaved labor in Cuba by engaging in transactions with Taylor and his businesses.

Potential Indirect Profits

Some of Citi's predecessor entities were financial institutions that operated in the Early National and Antebellum periods. Records contained in the Citi Heritage Collection and Cornell University indicate that some of these entities operated in slaveholding states in the United States prior to 1866, or that they did business with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states prior to 1866. These predecessor entities likely derived indirect financial benefits from the institution of slavery in the United States through financial transactions or other business relationships with individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states prior to 1866 that owned enslaved persons, relied on the labor of enslaved persons, or otherwise were involved in the institution of slavery in the United States.

Citi's records indicate, for example:

a. Individuals and entities located or operating in slaveholding states of the United States were accountholders of predecessor entities;

b. A predecessor entity created land and property trusts for individuals and companies located or operating in slaveholding states;

c. Predecessor entities had business dealings with financial institutions located or operating in slaveholding states;

d. Predecessor entities accepted, held or purchased stock, shares, or bonds in financial institutions located or operating in slaveholding states;

e. A predecessor held or purchased bonds or shares for certain Southern states and municipalities known to have enslaved persons;

f. Predecessor entities extended credit to financial institutions, individuals, and entities located or operating in slaveholding states;

g. Predecessor entities accepted, held or purchased bonds or stock in companies located or operating in slaveholding states; and

h. Predecessors had agents located or operating in slaveholding states.

9. [FOR APPLICANT ONLY] The Applicant and its Affiliated Entities will not use, nor permit their subcontractors to use, any facility listed as having an active exclusion by the U.S. EPA on the federal System for Award Management ("SAM").

10. [FOR APPLICANT ONLY] The Applicant will obtain from any contractors/subcontractors hired or to be hired in connection with the Matter certifications equal in form and substance to those in Certifications (2) and (9) above and will not, without the prior written consent of the City, use any such

10. V.B.3

(a-e) With respect to Section V, paragraph B.3 (a-e), the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that such statements are accurate with respect to the executive officers and directors of the Disclosing Party. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Firm") are defendants or putative defendants in numerous legal proceedings, including private civil litigations and regulatory/government investigations. The litigations range from individual actions involving a single plaintiff to class action lawsuits with potentially ~~-~~ millions of class members. Investigations involve both formal and informal proceedings, by both governmental agencies and self-regulatory organizations. These legal proceedings are at varying stages of adjudication, arbitration or investigation, and involve each of the Firm's lines of business and geographies and a wide variety of claims (including common law tort and contract claims and statutory antitrust, securities and consumer protection claims), some of which present novel legal theories. Based on current knowledge, the Firm believes it has asserted meritorious defenses to the claims asserted against it in its currently outstanding legal proceedings, intends to defend itself vigorously in all such matters, and does not believe that any pending legal proceeding would have a material effect on the Firm's performance of the services contemplated by the Request for Proposal. For further discussion, please refer to JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s publicly-filed disclosures, including its most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (available at: https://jpmorganchaseco.gcs-web.com/ir/sec-other-filings/overview).

V.B.5 (a-d); B.6 & B.7

The Authorized Representative certifies on behalf of the Disclosing Party the accuracy of the statements contained in Section V, VI and VII only as to the Disclosing Party and its executive officers and directors. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Firm") are defendants or putative defendants in numerous legal proceedings, including private civil litigations and regulatory/government investigations. The litigations range from individual actions involving a single plaintiff to class action lawsuits with potentially millions of class members. Investigations involve both formal and informal proceedings, by both governmental agencies and self-regulatory organizations. These legal proceedings are at varying stages of adjudication, arbitration or investigation, and involve each of the Firm's lines of business and geographies and a wide variety of claims (including common law tort and contract claims and statutory antitrust, securities and consumer protection claims), some of which present novel legal theories. Based on current knowledge, the Firm believes it has asserted meritorious defenses to the claims asserted against it in its currently outstanding legal proceedings, intends to defend itself vigorously in all such matters, and does not believe that any pending legal proceeding would have a material effect on the Firm's performance of the services contemplated by the Request for Proposal. V.B.11 Except as otherwise set forth in this Attachment A, the Authorized Representative on behalf of the Disclosing Party does not make any certification whatsoever with respect to any Applicable Party other than the Disclosing Party. The Authorized Representative on behalf of the Disclosing Party also certifies that it has not engaged any sub-contractor with respect to this transaction.

V.B.12 The Authorized Representative, on behalf of the Disclosing Party, certifies as to the statement in Section V, paragraph B.12 that, based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, the following employees of the Disclosing Party were previously City of Chicago employees during the 12-month period preceding the execution date of this EDS:

- Please note that due to the large size of the organization, we are unable to provide a complete list of all current employees of the Disclosing Party who were, at any time during the 12-month period preceding the date of this EDS, an employee, or elected or appointed official, of the City of Chicago. However, we can state that no one on the Relationship Team for the City of Chicago is an employee or elected or appointed official of the City of Chicago.

V.B.13 The Authorized Representative certifies as to the statement in Section V, paragraph B.13 that, based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, the following gifts were provided by employees of the Disclosing Party to the following:

- Emily Thrun was provided a gift of $75 (Seventy Five U.S. Dollars) on October 2024, in an event named "CDB Heritage in Transition: An Approach to Building Conversions". Please note that this request was approved because the Executive Director of the City of Chicago Board of ethics forwarded on approval for the food/beverage, which was associated with the employee attending a JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. event in her official capacity.
- Aside from the above, no other gifts were provided.

As to the disclosures set forth in Section V, paragraphs D.1 & D.4, based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, on behalf of the Disclosing Party, to the extent the Disclosing Party has any control the Authorized Representative certifies that no official or employee of the City of Chicago has a financial interest in his or her own name or in the name of any other person in this transaction.

The following response is true, accurate and complete based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief relying on information prepared on February 24, 2009, by a consultant at the direction of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

SECTION V -- CERTIFICATIONS

E. CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS.

The Disclosing Party assumed its current name on November 13, 2004, when JPMorgan Chase Bank, a New York banking corporation, was converted into a national banking association under the name JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association, and both Bank One, National Association (main office Chicago) and Bank One, National Association (main office Columbus) merged into it with the Disclosing Party being the surviving entity.

With regard to predecessors of the Disclosing Party as it existed prior to such merger ("JPMorgan Chase"), the Disclosing Party reports that J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr. was associated with George Peabody & Company and J.S. Morgan & Company (the "Peabody Firms") before he founded Drexel Morgan & Company, which ultimately became part of JPMorgan Chase. Capital supplied by Junius S. Morgan and J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr. appears to have been used to capitalize Drexel Morgan & Company in 1871. Upon the death of Junius S. Morgan, J.S. Morgan & Company came under the control of J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr. and became affiliated with J.P. Morgan & Co. Records indicate that the Peabody Firms had customers that appear to have used enslaved individuals.

JPMorgan Chase and the Bank One banks referred to above (collectively, "Bank One") had predecessor banks in states outside the South that purchased notes issued by, issued letters of credit or made loans to, and/or maintained correspondent accounts with municipalities, banks, companies and individuals located in Southern states where slavery was practiced during the slavery era. These municipalities, banks, companies and individuals are listed on Attachment 1.

Bank One had predecessor banks before 1866 in three Southern states: Kentucky, Louisiana and Virginia. Searches revealed slavery-related information about two Louisiana banks, the Canal Bank (formed in 1831) and the Citizens Bank (formed in 1833), and the Lexington branch of the second Bank of Kentucky (formed in 1835). In 1924 Citizens Bank and Canal Bank merged. Predecessors of JPMorgan Chase had longstanding banking relationships with Canal Bank and its predecessors (see Attachment 1), were creditors of Canal Bank and, in 1931, it appears that a predecessor of JPMorgan Chase led a group of investors that provided capital to Canal Bank and this predecessor of JPMorgan Chase became a shareholder and took a controlling management interest in the Canal Bank. The Canal Bank was placed into liquidation in March-May 1933 based on actions by the State of Louisiana and the federal government. In May 1933, The National Bank of Commerce in New Orleans was formed pursuant to an executive order approved by President Roosevelt and its assets included some of the deposits and loans of the old Canal Bank. Most of the capital for The National Bank of Commerce was provided by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (owned by the U.S. government), with the remainder coming from new shareholders. The U.S. government also provided over $13 million toward the liquidation of the old Canal Bank. In 1947 and 1969, The National Bank of Commerce in New Orleans made two grants to Tulane University, which included archives of the Citizens Bank and Canal Bank. These materials are held at the Tulane Manuscripts Department, Special Collections Division, Howard-Tilton Memorial Library at Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana (collectively, the "Tulane Records"). In 1865, the First National Bank of Lexington (subsequently a part of First Security Corporation of Kentucky which was acquired by Bank One in 1992) was formed and assumed the operations of the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky. Public records pertaining to the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky have been discovered that contain records relevant to this certification (the "Lexington Records"). The Tulane Records, the Lexington Records and other records indicate that:

1. Citizens Bank and Canal Bank provided credit to plantation owners and accepted mortgages from them. The collateral covered by these mortgages included land, equipment and/or enslaved individuals. The available records do not always provide the names of enslaved individuals. The Disclosing Party, however, estimates that, from 1831 to 1865, taking into account the duplication and/or absence of exact data, approximately 21,000 enslaved individuals were listed among the collateral covered by mortgages given to the Louisiana banks.

2. The Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky also provided credit to plantation owners and accepted mortgages from them. The collateral covered by these mortgages included land, equipment and/or enslaved individuals. The available records do not always provide the names of enslaved individuals. The Disclosing Party, however, estimates that, from 1835 to 1865, taking into account the duplication and/or absence of exact data, approximately 55 enslaved individuals were listed among the collateral covered by mortgages given to the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky.

3. When mortgages went unpaid, the banks could initiate foreclosure proceedings. When this occurred, the bank could take ownership of the collateral. The available records do not always provide the names of enslaved individuals. The Disclosing Party, however, estimates that, from 1831 to 1865, taking into account the duplication and/or absence of exact data, approximately 1,300 enslaved individuals were listed among the collateral that the Louisiana banks came to own. There is no evidence of foreclosure proceedings initiated by the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky.

Attachment 2 lists information on mortgages as to which one of the Louisiana banks came to own enslaved individuals through foreclosure proceedings, including, where available, the names of those individuals and their prior or subsequent owners. Attachment 3 lists information on mortgages as to which one of the three banks held collateral that included enslaved individuals, including, where available, the names of those individuals and their prior or subsequent owners. The attachments will be supplemented as necessary to reflect any additional information located.

On September 25, 2008, the Disclosing Party acquired from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, as the Receiver of Washington Mutual Bank, Henderson, NV (the "Receiver") certain assets of Washington Mutual Bank.

A review of the records of Washington Mutual Bank, including the records of its predecessor entities, has disclosed no evidence that Washington Mutual Bank nor any of its predecessors had any investments or profits from slavery, any direct involvement in the slave trade, any direct ownership in slaves, or any slaveholder insurance policies from the slavery era. There is evidence, however, that one predecessor entity, The Bowery Savings Bank, New York (1834)

("Bowery Savings"), purchased a $100,000 bond of a slave holding state, North Carolina. A total of $44,000 was paid to Bowery Savings by North Carolina in 1868 on account of the bond.

With respect to Section IV, the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that the Disclosing Party has not retained a subcontractor, attorney, lobbyist, accountant, or consultant in connection with the Matter.

SECTION V: CERTIFICATIONS

V.B.2 The Authorized Representative certifies on behalf of the Disclosing Party, as to the statements contained in Section V.B.2 that based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that neither the Disclosing Party nor its affiliates are delinquent in paying any fine, fee, tax or other charge owed to the State of Illinois or the City of Chicago except for taxes that are being contested in good faith by appropriate legal proceeding and possible delinquencies in paying a fine, fee, tax or other charge related to (i) property mortgaged to the Disclosing Party or its affiliates, (ii) property owned by the Disclosing Party or its affiliates and leased to others, (iii) foreclosed property now owned by the Disclosing Party or its affiliates, (iv) property owned or held by the Disclosing Party or its affiliates as a fiduciary or nominee, and (v) fines, fees, taxes or other charges that are being contested in good faith by the Disclosing Party or its affiliates by appropriate legal proceeding. V.B.3 (a-e) With respect to Section V, paragraph B.3 (a-e), the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that such statements are accurate with respect to the executive officers and directors of the Disclosing Party. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Firm") are defendants or putative defendants in numerous legal proceedings, including private civil litigations and regulatory/government investigations. The litigations range from individual actions involving a single plaintiff to class action lawsuits with potentially millions of class members. Investigations involve both formal and informal proceedings, by both governmental agencies and self-regulatory organizations. These legal proceedings are at varying stages of adjudication, arbitration or investigation, and involve each of the Firm's lines of business and geographies and a wide variety of claims (including common law tort and contract claims and statutory antitrust, securities and consumer protection claims), some of which present novel legal theories.

Based on current knowledge, the Firm believes it has asserted meritorious defenses to the claims asserted against it in its currently outstanding legal proceedings, intends to defend itself vigorously in all such matters, and does not believe that any pending legal proceeding would have a material effect on the Firm's performance of the services contemplated by the Request for Proposal. For further discussion, please refer to JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s publicly-filed disclosures, including its most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (available at: https://jpmorganchaseco.gcs-web.com/ir/sec-other-filings/overview).

The Authorized Representative certifies on behalf of the Disclosing Party the accuracy of the statements contained in Section V, VI and VII only as to the Disclosing Party and its executive officers and directors. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Firm") are defendants or putative defendants in numerous legal proceedings, including private civil litigations and regulatory/government investigations. V.B.11 Except as otherwise set forth in this Attachment A, the Authorized Representative on behalf of the Disclosing Party does not make any certification whatsoever with respect to any Applicable Party other than the Disclosing Party. The Authorized Representative on behalf of the Disclosing Party also certifies that it has not engaged any sub-contractor with respect to this transaction.

V.B.12 The Authorized Representative, on behalf of the Disclosing Party, certifies as to the statement in Section V, paragraph B.12 that, based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, the following employees of the Disclosing Party were previously City of Chicago employees during the 12-month period preceding the execution date of this EDS:

SECTION V -- CERTIFICATIONS

E. CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS.

The Disclosing Party was formed on July 1, 2004, when JPMorgan Chase & Co. acquired Bank One Corporation ("Bank One").

With regard to predecessors of the Disclosing Party as it existed prior to the Bank One Corporation acquisition ("JPMorgan Chase"), the Disclosing Party reports that J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr. was associated with George Peabody & Company and J.S. Morgan & Company (the "Peabody Firms") before he founded Drexel Morgan & Company, which ultimately became part of JPMorgan Chase. Capital supplied by Junius S. Morgan and J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr. appears to have been used to capitalize Drexel Morgan & Company in 1871. Upon the death of Junius S. Morgan, J.S. Morgan & Company came under the control of J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr. and became affiliated with J.P. Morgan & Co. Records indicate that the Peabody Firms had customers that appear to have used enslaved individuals.

JPMorgan Chase and Bank One had predecessor banks in states outside the South that purchased notes issued by, issued letters of credit or made loans to, and/or maintained correspondent accounts with municipalities, banks, companies and individuals located in Southern states where slavery was practiced during the slavery era. These municipalities, banks, companies and individuals are listed on Attachment 1.

Bank One had predecessor banks before 1866 in three Southern states: Kentucky, Louisiana and Virginia. Searches revealed slavery-related information about two Louisiana banks, the Canal Bank (formed in 1831) and the Citizens Bank (formed in 1833), and the Lexington branch of the second Bank of Kentucky (formed in 1835). In 1924 Citizens Bank and Canal Bank merged. Predecessors of JPMorgan Chase had longstanding banking relationships with Canal Bank and its predecessors (see Attachment 1), were creditors of Canal Bank and, in 1931, it appears that a predecessor of JPMorgan Chase led a group of investors that provided capital to Canal Bank and this predecessor of JPMorgan Chase became a shareholder and took a controlling management interest in the Canal Bank. The Canal Bank was placed into liquidation in March-May 1933 based on actions by the State of Louisiana and the federal government. In May 1933, The National Bank of Commerce in New Orleans was formed pursuant to an executive order approved by President Roosevelt and its assets included some of the deposits and loans of the old Canal Bank. Most of the capital for The National Bank of Commerce was provided by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (owned by the U.S. government), with the remainder coming from new shareholders. The U.S. government also provided over $13 million toward the liquidation of the old Canal Bank. In 1947 and 1969, The National Bank of Commerce in New Orleans made two grants to Tulane University, which included archives of the Citizens Bank and Canal Bank. These materials are held at the Tulane Manuscripts Department, Special Collections Division, Howard-Tilton Memorial Library at Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana (collectively, the "Tulane Records"). In 1865, the First National Bank of Lexington (subsequently a part of First Security Corporation of Kentucky which was acquired by Bank One in 1992) was formed and assumed the operations of the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky. Public records pertaining to the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky have been discovered that contain records relevant to this certification (the "Lexington Records"). The Tulane Records, the Lexington Records and other records indicate that:

1. Citizens Bank and Canal Bank provided credit to plantation owners and accepted mortgages from them. The collateral covered by these mortgages included land, equipment and/or enslaved individuals. The available records do not always provide the names of enslaved individuals. The Disclosing Party, however, estimates that, from 1831 to 1865, taking into account the duplication and/or absence of exact data, approximately 21,000 enslaved individuals were listed among the collateral covered by mortgages given to the Louisiana banks.

2. The Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky also provided credit to plantation owners and accepted mortgages from them. The collateral covered by these mortgages included land, equipment and/or enslaved individuals. The available records do not always provide the names of enslaved individuals. The Disclosing Party, however, estimates that, from 1835 to 1865, taking into account the duplication and/or absence of exact data, approximately 55 enslaved individuals were listed among the collateral covered by mortgages given to the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky.

3. When mortgages went unpaid, the banks could initiate foreclosure proceedings. When this occurred, the bank could take ownership of the collateral. The available records do not always provide the names of enslaved individuals. The Disclosing Party, however, estimates that, from 1831 to 1865, taking into account the duplication and/or absence of exact data, approximately 1,300 enslaved individuals were listed among the collateral that the Louisiana banks came to own. There is no evidence of foreclosure proceedings initiated by the Lexington Branch of the second Bank of Kentucky.

Attachment 2 lists information on mortgages as to which one of the Louisiana banks came to own enslaved individuals through foreclosure proceedings, including, where available, the names of those individuals and their prior or subsequent owners. Attachment 3 lists information on mortgages as to which one of the three banks held collateral that included enslaved individuals, including, where available, the names of those individuals and their prior or subsequent owners. The attachments will be supplemented as necessary to reflect any additional information located.

On September 25, 2008, JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association (a subsidiary of the Disclosing Party) acquired from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, as the Receiver of Washington Mutual Bank, Henderson NV, certain assets of Washington Mutual Bank.

A review of the records of Washington Mutual Bank, including the records of its predecessor entities, has disclosed no evidence that Washington Mutual Bank nor any of its predecessors had any investments or profits from slavery, any direct involvement in the slave trade, any direct ownership in slaves, or any slaveholder insurance policies from the slavery era. There is evidence, however, that one predecessor entity, The Bowery Savings Bank, New York (1834)

("Bowery Savings"), purchased a $100,000 bond of a slave holding state, North Carolina. A total of $44,000 was paid to Bowery Savings by North Carolina in 1868 on account of the bond.

ENSLAVED INDIVIDUALS MORTGAGED TO CITIZENS BANK OF LOUISIANA, NEW ORLEANS CANAL & BANKING COMPANY AND
LEXINGTON BRANCH OF THE SECOND BANK OF KENTUCKY

The following list identifies enslaved individuals owned by Citizens Bank of Louisiana and New Orleans Canal & Banking Company in Louisiana from 1831 to 1865.[1] The information is drawn from two sources. The first is a collection of Citizens Bank minute books and papers held at Tulane University. The second is a survey of conveyance and land records held either at the New Orleans Public Library or at local parishes throughout Louisiana.

The list includes every reference to ownership of enslaved individuals by the banks located in these records. The list is arranged by parish and thereafter by date. General references to ownership that did not indicate a specific parish are listed separately.

Each entry includes information on previous (P) and subsequent (S) owners where known. Any available information on the location of the plantation is also recorded and appears in brackets after the previous and subsequent owners. Each entry includes a reference identifying the historical sources used to compile the information.

The information on individuals includes all names identified in the records. In some cases, the same individuals appear to have been involved in several different transactions. However, the records are often not consistent in the spelling of names and are often only partially or poorly indexed. Accordingly, each transaction is listed separately. The names in italics are ones that were difficult to decipher because of handwriting or because the records have faded over time.

[1] This list was prepared by History Associates Incorporated at the direction of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

The following list identifies cases where enslaved individuals were pledged to Citizens Bank of Louisiana, the New Orleans Canal Bank, or the Bank of Kentucky (Lexington Branch) as collateral for mortgages or loans from 1831 to 1865.[1] The information is drawn from three sources. The first is a collection of Citizens Bank minute books and papers held at Tulane University. The second consists of conveyance and mortgage records held at local parishes throughout Louisiana. The final source consists of conveyance records held at the Fayette County Courthouse in Lexington, Kentucky.

The list includes every reference to Citizens Bank, Canal Bank, or Bank of Kentucky (Lexington Branch) customers who secured loans or mortgages with enslaved individuals. The list is arranged alphabetically by parish or county and thereafter by owner. Each entry also includes information on the property and individual names included in the records. Names in italics reflect places where the documents were difficult to decipher because of the handwriting or because the documents have faded over time. The final column identifies the source for the information.

Many loans or mortgages were recorded more than once, including when borrowers died and plantations were sold or passed to others by will or other conveyance, or when loans were changed and had to be re-recorded. The existing records do not always provide enough information to identify when this occurred. Thus, related transactions may appear in separate entries listed under separate individuals. Complicating matters, there was no standardized spelling for many names in the source materials, and no standardized descriptions for many of the properties involved. Duplicate entries were avoided wherever possible, but where there was doubt, multiple entries were provided. Accordingly, some enslaved individuals listed may appear in several different entries.

Specifically, On Form 10Q (Quarterly Period Ending 6/30/25) of the PNC Financial Services Group, Inc., please see Note 13 Legal Proceedings section on pages 93-94. E. CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS

The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. reviewed the historical records of acquired institutions and discovered two instances of reportable pre-1865 business activities in the records of the National Bank of Kentucky, a predecessor of National City Bank, which is a predecessor of PNC Bank.

- In 1836, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $200,000 to the City of Louisville. Records indicate the City then invested in the Lexington & Ohio Railroad Company.
- In 1852, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $135,000 to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Research indicates that both railroads used slave labor. There is no evidence that any additional transactions were conducted with either railroad.

E. CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS

The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. reviewed the historical records of acquired institutions and discovered two instances of reportable pre-1865 business activities in the records of the National Bank of Kentucky, a predecessor of National City Bank, which is a predecessor of PNC Bank.

- In 1836, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $200,000 to the City of Louisville. Records indicate the City then invested in the Lexington & Ohio Railroad Company.
- In 1852, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $135,000 to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Research indicates that both railroads used slave labor. There is no evidence that any additional transactions were conducted with either railroad.

E. CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS

The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. reviewed the historical records of acquired institutions and discovered two instances of reportable pre-1865 business activities in the records of the National Bank of Kentucky, a predecessor of National City Bank, which is a predecessor of PNC Bank.

- In 1836, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $200,000 to the City of Louisville. Records indicate the City then invested in the Lexington & Ohio Railroad Company.
- In 1852, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $135,000 to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Research indicates that both railroads used slave labor. There is no evidence that any additional transactions were conducted with either railroad.

10b. U.S. Bancorp Slavery Era Certification

CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS

U.S. Bank National Association was formed from the following major banks:

1. Star Bank, National Association (Cincinnati, Ohio) changed its name to Firstar Bank, National Association (Cincinnati, Ohio) effective February 1999;
2. Mercantile Bank National Association (St. Louis, Missouri) merged into Firstar Bank, National Association (Cincinnati, Ohio) effective April 2000;
3. United States National Bank of Oregon (Portland, Oregon) merged with First Bank, National Association under the title U.S. Bank National Association effective August 1997;
4. U.S. Bank National Association merged into Firstar Bank, National Association, and the succeeding bank, changed its name to U.S. Bank National Association effective August 2001;
5. MUFG Union Bank, National Association merged into U.S. Bank National Association effective May 5, 2023 following its acquisition by U.S. Bancorp on December 1, 2022.

These banks were acquired through mergers and acquisitions of numerous smaller banks. There are five hundred and forty-seven U.S. Bank National Association predecessors. Thirty-four predecessors were founded before the abolition of slavery in December 1865. Thirteen pre- 1866 predecessors were established in southern slave-holding states and territories, including Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee.

In 2005, the bank conducted a review of historical records held in various external repositories. As a result of that review, U.S. Bank National Association has identified external records of its predecessors which may necessitate disclosure. The conveyance records, while showing no record of direct ownership of enslaved individuals, contained records of founders and/or directors of predecessor banks owning enslaved individuals, as well as a record where an enslaved individual was the collateral for a loan. Specifically, the first president of predecessor Marion National Bank of Lebanon, Kentucky (founded in 1856), Benedict Spalding, owned two enslaved individuals in 1850.

In 1860 someone with a similar name "Benidict Spalding" is also listed as having owned fourteen enslaved individuals. In addition, certain members of the Marion National Bank of Lebanon's board of directors (called "commissioners") owned approximately forty-seven enslaved individuals in total (the records include abbreviated names which we conclude may be references to commissioners). The first president of predecessor First National Bank of Clarksville, Tennessee (founded in 1865), S.F. Beaumont, owned one enslaved individual in 1860. The first president of predecessor St. Louis Building and Savings Association, Missouri (founded in 1857), Marshall Brotherton, owned ten enslaved individuals in 1850 and four enslaved individuals in 1860. Merchants Bank (founded in 1857) and Bank of St. Louis (founded in 1857), both predecessors, along with a group of other St. Louis firms, issued a mortgage to Charles McLaran that was secured by his property, which included an unspecified number of enslaved individuals. However, the 1860 Federal Census Slave Schedule for St. Louis provided that Charles McLaran owned thirteen enslaved individuals. In 2008, Union Bank of California, N.A. (a predecessor of MUFG Union Bank, N.A.) conducted a review of historical records held in various internal repositories. MUFG Union Bank's oldest predecessor (The Bank of California) was formed on May 12, 1864. Based on a summary of that review provided to U.S. Bancorp in conjunction with the MUFG Union Bank acquisition in December 2022, Union Bank of California, N.A. did not identify any records that may necessitate disclosure.

In 2024, the bank conducted an additional review of U.S. Bancorp (the parent company of U.S. Bank National Association) subsidiaries and affiliates formed or acquired since 2005. Based on that internal review, only one of the entities identified (The Bank of California, a predecessor of MUFG Union Bank, N.A.) were formed prior to 1866. See paragraph above relating to MUFG Union Bank information.

10b. U.S. Bancorp Slavery Era Certification

CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS

U.S. Bank National Association was formed from the following major banks:

1. Star Bank, National Association (Cincinnati, Ohio) changed its name to Firstar Bank, National Association (Cincinnati, Ohio) effective February 1999;
2. Mercantile Bank National Association (St. Louis, Missouri) merged into Firstar Bank, National Association (Cincinnati, Ohio) effective April 2000;
3. United States National Bank of Oregon (Portland, Oregon) merged with First Bank, National Association under the title U.S. Bank National Association effective August 1997;
4. U.S. Bank National Association merged into Firstar Bank, National Association, and the succeeding bank, changed its name to U.S. Bank National Association effective August 2001;
5. MUFG Union Bank, National Association merged into U.S. Bank National Association effective May 5, 2023 following its acquisition by U.S. Bancorp on December 1, 2022.

These banks were acquired through mergers and acquisitions of numerous smaller banks. There are five hundred and forty-seven U.S. Bank National Association predecessors. Thirty-four predecessors were founded before the abolition of slavery in December 1865. Thirteen pre- 1866 predecessors were established in southern slave-holding states and territories, including Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee.

In 2005, the bank conducted a review of historical records held in various external repositories. As a result of that review, U.S. Bank National Association has identified external records of its predecessors which may necessitate disclosure. The conveyance records, while showing no record of direct ownership of enslaved individuals, contained records of founders and/or directors of predecessor banks owning enslaved individuals, as well as a record where an enslaved individual was the collateral for a loan. Specifically, the first president of predecessor Marion National Bank of Lebanon, Kentucky (founded in 1856), Benedict Spalding, owned two enslaved individuals in 1850.

In 1860 someone with a similar name "Benidict Spalding" is also listed as having owned fourteen enslaved individuals. In addition, certain members of the Marion National Bank of Lebanon's board of directors (called "commissioners") owned approximately forty-seven enslaved individuals in total (the records include abbreviated names which we conclude may be references to commissioners). The first president of predecessor First National Bank of Clarksville, Tennessee (founded in 1865), S.F. Beaumont, owned one enslaved individual in 1860. The first president of predecessor St. Louis Building and Savings Association, Missouri (founded in 1857), Marshall Brotherton, owned ten enslaved individuals in 1850 and four enslaved individuals in 1860. Merchants Bank (founded in 1857) and Bank of St. Louis (founded in 1857), both predecessors, along with a group of other St. Louis firms, issued a mortgage to Charles McLaran that was secured by his property, which included an unspecified number of enslaved individuals. However, the 1860 Federal Census Slave Schedule for St. Louis provided that Charles McLaran owned thirteen enslaved individuals. In 2008, Union Bank of California, N.A. (a predecessor of MUFG Union Bank, N.A.) conducted a review of historical records held in various internal repositories. MUFG Union Bank's oldest predecessor (The Bank of California) was formed on May 12, 1864. Based on a summary of that review provided to U.S. Bancorp in conjunction with the MUFG Union Bank acquisition in December 2022, Union Bank of California, N.A. did not identify any records that may necessitate disclosure.

In 2024, the bank conducted an additional review of U.S. Bancorp (the parent company of U.S. Bank National Association) subsidiaries and affiliates formed or acquired since 2005. Based on that internal review, only one of the entities identified (The Bank of California, a predecessor of MUFG Union Bank, N.A.) were formed prior to 1866. See paragraph above relating to MUFG Union Bank information.

Wells Fargo does not know if the Reporting Persons currently hold more than 7.5% of its outstanding common stock. Section III – Income or Compensation to, or Ownership by, City Elected Officials

The undersigned warrants, to the best of his knowledge after due inquiry, that the Disclosing Party has not provided any income or compensation to any City elected official in 12 months before, nor does the undersigned reasonably expect to during the 12-month period following, the date the undersigned has signed this EDS.

Note that in the ordinary course of its business, Wells Fargo makes loans of various types with individuals and businesses. We have determined that these loans do not constitute a "business relationship" as defined in Chapter 2-156 of the Municipal Code.

Note further that the Disclosing Party has no way of identifying spouses or domestic partners of any City elected official, or the identities of any entities in which any city elected official or his or her spouse or domestic partner has a financial interest, and thus limits its certification to "City elected officials" as specially required by Section III. Specifically, we made due inquiry with respect to the City's Aldermen, the Mayor, the Treasurer and the City Clerk.

Wells Fargo and certain of our subsidiaries are involved in a number of judicial, regulatory, governmental, arbitration, and other proceedings or investigations concerning matters arising from the conduct of our business activities, and many of those proceedings and investigations expose Wells Fargo to potential financial loss or other adverse consequences. These proceedings and investigations include actions brought against Wells Fargo and/or our subsidiaries with respect to corporate-related matters and transactions in which Wells Fargo and/or our subsidiaries were involved. In addition, Wells Fargo and our subsidiaries may be requested to provide information to or otherwise cooperate with government authorities in the conduct of investigations of other persons or industry groups. Based on information currently available, advice of counsel, available insurance coverage, and established reserves, Wells Fargo believes that the eventual outcome of the actions against Wells Fargo and/or its subsidiaries will not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Wells Fargo's consolidated financial condition. Additionally, at this time, and to the best knowledge of the Wells Fargo Bank representatives preparing this response, Wells Fargo Bank has not been involved in any regulatory reviews or any legal actions that would have a material adverse effect on our ability to provide the services requested in this RFP.

To the extent any litigation or regulatory matters are required to be reported, they are disclosed in Wells Fargo's SEC filings and are matters of public record:

SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS SUMMARY

After years of research, Wells Fargo has found no records in its possession that indicate it – or any entities it acquired before the Wachovia merger or in the years following that merger – had ever financed slavery, held enslaved persons as collateral, owned enslaved persons, or profited from slavery.

With the Wachovia merger in 2008, Wells Fargo inherited hundreds of Wachovia's predecessor institutions, including two that had involvement in slavery. Wachovia had announced these findings in 2005, apologized for the role its predecessors played and renewed its commitment to preserve and promote the history of the African-American experience in our nation. Wells Fargo shares that commitment and affirms its long-standing opposition to slavery.

The following narrative summarizes the results of the research that has been performed regarding Wachovia Bank and its ties to slavery.

SUMMARY OF RESEARCH

Wachovia commissioned external research in 2005, which revealed that two predecessor institutions, the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company and the Bank of Charleston, owned enslaved persons. Due to incomplete records, researchers cannot determine exactly how many enslaved persons either the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company or the Bank of Charleston owned. Through specific transactional records, researchers determined that the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company owned at least 162 enslaved persons, and the Bank of Charleston accepted at least 529 enslaved persons as collateral on mortgaged properties or loans and acquired an undetermined number of these individuals when customers defaulted on their loans.

The Georgia Railroad and Banking Company was founded in 1833 to complete a railroad line between the City of Augusta and the interior of the State of Georgia. The company relied on the labor of enslaved persons for the construction and maintenance of this railway. According to the existing and searchable bank records, 162 enslaved persons were owned or authorized to be purchased by the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company between 1836 and 1842. In addition, the company awarded work to contractors who purchased at least 400 enslaved persons to perform work on the railways.

The Bank of Charleston, founded in 1834, issued loans and mortgages where enslaved persons were used as collateral. A review of the bank's account ledgers revealed a minimum of 24 transactions involving reference to 529 enslaved persons being used as collateral. In most cases, the loan was paid on schedule, and the bank never took possession of enslaved persons that were pledged as collateral on the loan. In several documented instances, however, customers defaulted on their loans and the Bank of Charleston took actual possession of enslaved persons. The total number of enslaved persons of whom the bank took possession cannot be accurately tallied due to the lack of records.

The records of the remaining Wachovia predecessors did not evidence that such companies financed slavery, held enslaved persons as collateral, owned enslaved persons, or profited from slavery. However, eleven of such predecessor companies (in addition to the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company and the Bank of Charleston) were determined to have profited indirectly from slavery through the following means:

- Founders, directors, or account holders who owned enslaved persons and/or profited directly from slavery;
- Investing in the bonds of slave states and municipalities; and
- Investing in U.S. government bonds during years when the United States permitted and profited from the labor of enslaved persons through taxation.

These institutions[1] are:

- Bank of North America (Philadelphia, Pa.)
- Bank of Baltimore
- The Philadelphia Bank (later Philadelphia National Bank)
- Farmers' & Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia
- Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and the Granting of Annuities
- State Bank of Elizabeth (Elizabeth, N.J.)
- State Bank of Newark (Newark, N.J.)
- Savings Bank of Baltimore
- Girard National Bank
- The Trenton Banking Company
- Atlanta National Bank (Georgia)

[1] A prior version of this summary included Carswell Insurance Group. Based upon further research, we have not identified any records of this predecessor company's direct or indirect profits from slavery.

The undersigned warrants, to the best of his knowledge after due inquiry, that the Disclosing Party has not provided any income or compensation to any City elected official in 12 months before, nor does the undersigned reasonably expect to during the 12-month period following, the date the undersigned has signed this EDS.

Note that in the ordinary course of its business, Wells Fargo makes loans of various types with individuals and businesses. We have determined that these loans do not constitute a "business relationship" as defined in Chapter 2-156 of the Municipal Code.

Note further that the Disclosing Party has no way of identifying spouses or domestic partners of any City elected official, or the identities of any entities in which any city elected official or his or her spouse or domestic partner has a financial interest, and thus limits its certification to "City elected officials" as specially required by Section III. Specifically, we made due inquiry with respect to the City's Aldermen, the Mayor, the Treasurer and the City Clerk.

Wells Fargo and certain of our subsidiaries are involved in a number of judicial, regulatory, governmental, arbitration, and other proceedings or investigations concerning matters arising from the conduct of our business activities, and many of those proceedings and investigations expose Wells Fargo to potential financial loss or other adverse consequences. These proceedings and investigations include actions brought against Wells Fargo and/or our subsidiaries with respect to corporate-related matters and transactions in which Wells Fargo and/or our subsidiaries were involved. In addition, Wells Fargo and our subsidiaries may be requested to provide information to or otherwise cooperate with government authorities in the conduct of investigations of other persons or industry groups. Based on information currently available, advice of counsel, available insurance coverage, and established reserves, Wells Fargo believes that the eventual outcome of the actions against Wells Fargo and/or its subsidiaries will not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Wells Fargo's consolidated financial condition. Additionally, at this time, and to the best knowledge of the Wells Fargo Bank representatives preparing this response, Wells Fargo Bank has not been involved in any regulatory reviews or any legal actions that would have a material adverse effect on our ability to provide the services requested in this RFP.

To the extent any litigation or regulatory matters are required to be reported, they are disclosed in Wells Fargo's SEC filings and are matters of public record:

After years of research, Wells Fargo has found no records in its possession that indicate it – or any entities it acquired before the Wachovia merger or in the years following that merger – had ever financed slavery, held enslaved persons as collateral, owned enslaved persons, or profited from slavery.

With the Wachovia merger in 2008, Wells Fargo inherited hundreds of Wachovia's predecessor institutions, including two that had involvement in slavery. Wachovia had announced these findings in 2005, apologized for the role its predecessors played and renewed its commitment to preserve and promote the history of the African-American experience in our nation. Wells Fargo shares that commitment and affirms its long-standing opposition to slavery.

The following narrative summarizes the results of the research that has been performed regarding Wachovia Bank and its ties to slavery.

SUMMARY OF RESEARCH

Wachovia commissioned external research in 2005, which revealed that two predecessor institutions, the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company and the Bank of Charleston, owned enslaved persons. Due to incomplete records, researchers cannot determine exactly how many enslaved persons either the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company or the Bank of Charleston owned. Through specific transactional records, researchers determined that the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company owned at least 162 enslaved persons, and the Bank of Charleston accepted at least 529 enslaved persons as collateral on mortgaged properties or loans and acquired an undetermined number of these individuals when customers defaulted on their loans.

The Georgia Railroad and Banking Company was founded in 1833 to complete a railroad line between the City of Augusta and the interior of the State of Georgia. The company relied on the labor of enslaved persons for the construction and maintenance of this railway. According to the existing and searchable bank records, 162 enslaved persons were owned or authorized to be purchased by the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company between 1836 and 1842. In addition, the company awarded work to contractors who purchased at least 400 enslaved persons to perform work on the railways.

The Bank of Charleston, founded in 1834, issued loans and mortgages where enslaved persons were used as collateral. A review of the bank's account ledgers revealed a minimum of 24 transactions involving reference to 529 enslaved persons being used as collateral. In most cases, the loan was paid on schedule, and the bank never took possession of enslaved persons that were pledged as collateral on the loan. In several documented instances, however, customers defaulted on their loans and the Bank of Charleston took actual possession of enslaved persons. The total number of enslaved persons of whom the bank took possession cannot be accurately tallied due to the lack of records.

The records of the remaining Wachovia predecessors did not evidence that such companies financed slavery, held enslaved persons as collateral, owned enslaved persons, or profited from slavery. However, eleven of such predecessor companies (in addition to the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company and the Bank of Charleston) were determined to have profited indirectly from slavery through the following means:

- Founders, directors, or account holders who owned enslaved persons and/or profited directly from slavery;
- Investing in the bonds of slave states and municipalities; and
- Investing in U.S. government bonds during years when the United States permitted and profited from the labor of enslaved persons through taxation.

These institutions[1] are:

- Bank of North America (Philadelphia, Pa.)
- Bank of Baltimore
- The Philadelphia Bank (later Philadelphia National Bank)
- Farmers' & Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia
- Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and the Granting of Annuities
- State Bank of Elizabeth (Elizabeth, N.J.)
- State Bank of Newark (Newark, N.J.)
- Savings Bank of Baltimore
- Girard National Bank
- The Trenton Banking Company
- Atlanta National Bank (Georgia)

[1] A prior version of this summary included Carswell Insurance Group. Based upon further research, we have not identified any records of this predecessor company's direct or indirect profits from slavery.

(collectively, "The Vanguard Group") held approximately 9.77% of outstanding publicly traded common stock of Wells Fargo as of that date (The Vanguard Group, Inc. is not required to provide its EDS Form under EDS Rules exemption 1(g) (registered investment advisor) and instead its Form ADV was provided and can be found at link https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/105958), and BlackRock, Inc. on behalf of itself and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, "BlackRock") held approximately 8.07% of outstanding publicly traded common stock of Wells Fargo as of that date (BlackRock, Inc. is not required to provide its EDS Form under EDS Rules exemption 1(i) (publicly-traded company) and instead its SEC filings that show its significant owners and its Form 10-K can be found at the links https://d18rn0p25nwr6d.cloudfront.net/CIK-0000906107/faaf5a6e-983f- 4b41-a443-7bb20e27c78a.pdf and https://www.sec.gov/Archives/edgar/data/2012383/000095017025026584/blk-20241231.htm respectively), (collectively, The Vanguard Group and BlackRock, the "Reporting Persons"). Wells Fargo does not know if the Reporting Persons currently hold more than 7.5% of its outstanding common stock. Section III – Income or Compensation to, or Ownership by, City Elected Officials

The undersigned warrants, to the best of his knowledge after due inquiry, that the Disclosing Party has not provided any income or compensation to any City elected official in 12 months before, nor does the undersigned reasonably expect to during the 12-month period following, the date the undersigned has signed this EDS.

Note that in the ordinary course of its business, Wells Fargo makes loans of various types with individuals and businesses. We have determined that these loans do not constitute a "business relationship" as defined in Chapter 2-156 of the Municipal Code.

Note further that the Disclosing Party has no way of identifying spouses or domestic partners of any City elected official, or the identities of any entities in which any city elected official or his or her spouse or domestic partner has a financial interest, and thus limits its certification to "City elected officials" as specially required by Section III. Specifically, we made due inquiry with respect to the City's Aldermen, the Mayor, the Treasurer and the City Clerk.

Wells Fargo and certain of our subsidiaries are involved in a number of judicial, regulatory, governmental, arbitration, and other proceedings or investigations concerning matters arising from the conduct of our business activities, and many of those proceedings and investigations expose Wells Fargo to potential financial loss or other adverse consequences. These proceedings and investigations include actions brought against Wells Fargo and/or our subsidiaries with respect to corporate-related matters and transactions in which Wells Fargo and/or our subsidiaries were involved. In addition, Wells Fargo and our subsidiaries may be requested to provide information to or otherwise cooperate with government authorities in the conduct of investigations of other persons or industry groups. Based on information currently available, advice of counsel, available insurance coverage, and established reserves, Wells Fargo believes that the eventual outcome of the actions against Wells Fargo and/or its subsidiaries will not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Wells Fargo's consolidated financial condition. Additionally, at this time, and to the best knowledge of the Wells Fargo Bank representatives preparing this response, Wells Fargo Bank has not been involved in any regulatory reviews or any legal actions that would have a material adverse effect on our ability to provide the services requested in this RFP.

To the extent any litigation or regulatory matters are required to be reported, they are disclosed in Wells Fargo's SEC filings and are matters of public record:

After years of research, Wells Fargo has found no records in its possession that indicate it – or any entities it acquired before the Wachovia merger or in the years following that merger – had ever financed slavery, held enslaved persons as collateral, owned enslaved persons, or profited from slavery.

With the Wachovia merger in 2008, Wells Fargo inherited hundreds of Wachovia's predecessor institutions, including two that had involvement in slavery. Wachovia had announced these findings in 2005, apologized for the role its predecessors played and renewed its commitment to preserve and promote the history of the African-American experience in our nation. Wells Fargo shares that commitment and affirms its long-standing opposition to slavery.

The following narrative summarizes the results of the research that has been performed regarding Wachovia Bank and its ties to slavery.

SUMMARY OF RESEARCH

Wachovia commissioned external research in 2005, which revealed that two predecessor institutions, the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company and the Bank of Charleston, owned enslaved persons. Due to incomplete records, researchers cannot determine exactly how many enslaved persons either the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company or the Bank of Charleston owned. Through specific transactional records, researchers determined that the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company owned at least 162 enslaved persons, and the Bank of Charleston accepted at least 529 enslaved persons as collateral on mortgaged properties or loans and acquired an undetermined number of these individuals when customers defaulted on their loans.

The Georgia Railroad and Banking Company was founded in 1833 to complete a railroad line between the City of Augusta and the interior of the State of Georgia. The company relied on the labor of enslaved persons for the construction and maintenance of this railway. According to the existing and searchable bank records, 162 enslaved persons were owned or authorized to be purchased by the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company between 1836 and 1842. In addition, the company awarded work to contractors who purchased at least 400 enslaved persons to perform work on the railways.

The Bank of Charleston, founded in 1834, issued loans and mortgages where enslaved persons were used as collateral. A review of the bank's account ledgers revealed a minimum of 24 transactions involving reference to 529 enslaved persons being used as collateral. In most cases, the loan was paid on schedule, and the bank never took possession of enslaved persons that were pledged as collateral on the loan. In several documented instances, however, customers defaulted on their loans and the Bank of Charleston took actual possession of enslaved persons. The total number of enslaved persons of whom the bank took possession cannot be accurately tallied due to the lack of records.

The records of the remaining Wachovia predecessors did not evidence that such companies financed slavery, held enslaved persons as collateral, owned enslaved persons, or profited from slavery. However, eleven of such predecessor companies (in addition to the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company and the Bank of Charleston) were determined to have profited indirectly from slavery through the following means:

- Founders, directors, or account holders who owned enslaved persons and/or profited directly from slavery;
- Investing in the bonds of slave states and municipalities; and
- Investing in U.S. government bonds during years when the United States permitted and profited from the labor of enslaved persons through taxation.

These institutions[1] are:

- Bank of North America (Philadelphia, Pa.)
- Bank of Baltimore
- The Philadelphia Bank (later Philadelphia National Bank)
- Farmers' & Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia
- Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and the Granting of Annuities
- State Bank of Elizabeth (Elizabeth, N.J.)
- State Bank of Newark (Newark, N.J.)
- Savings Bank of Baltimore
- Girard National Bank
- The Trenton Banking Company
- Atlanta National Bank (Georgia)

[1] A prior version of this summary included Carswell Insurance Group. Based upon further research, we have not identified any records of this predecessor company's direct or indirect profits from slavery.
